Urban Graphic

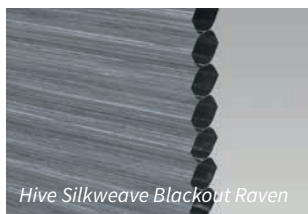

Influenced by the urban landscape, geometric designs dominate this trend, with solid shapes broken up by texture and use of linear detail. Tones taken from the exterior surroundings including concrete, pewter, muted gold, turmeric and cherry red complete the look.

It's Not Just Smoke and Mirrors

Colour of the moment grey and forever fresh white is a colour combination being embraced through lifestyle and interiors alike. From pewter through to iron, the grey spectrum is extensive.

Incorporating white and grey into interiors allows for a base which can be added to when it comes to home accessories and interchangeable furnishings.

Metallic Luxe

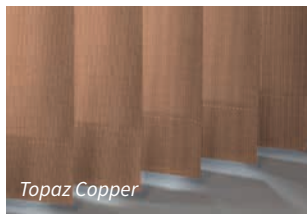

Subtle and textural, the inclusion of metallic elements for this trend is done in a stylish yet understated way. Metallic yarns woven into cloth give a subtle shimmer and scattering of sparkle. Metallic colours of gold, silver, rose gold and bronze epitomize this trend, with dark shades of black acting as accents.

Midnight

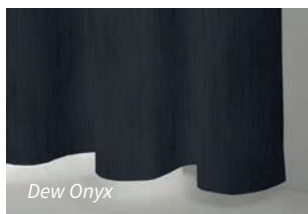

Inspired by the dark of the night, diamonds and faceted shapes are a prominent motif. Strong contrast of textures and fabrics create the illusion of twilight. Dark colours of the night embody this trend, including twilight blue, plum and mulberry alongside black and grey.

Reinvigorated Reds

Unconventional reds set the tone for AW 17/18, cue burgundy, dark ruby and crimson. All have a feeling of nostalgia, and are reminiscent of leaves falling from the trees and the beauty of nature. Pair with Autumnal browns for a rich and luxurious setting.

The Dark Side

Tinted darks are a sophisticated and contemporary look which work well in the heart of winter. A palette filled with deep amazon green, dark olive, zinc and indigo combined with textural velvets add a soft aesthetic to interiors. The almost black colours exemplify the distinct shift in season.
